

PIIT Deployment Teams

Composed of PIIT teams who will be assigned to:

PIIT Source Handlers and Covert Operations

The JIG is expected to maintain its covert operations of source handlers and undercover operations and report information in real time to the JOC. The JIG has assigned 12 trained covered investigators and will conduct active operations as directed by the Primary Investigator.

Event Monitors

These will be PIIT member assignments to monitor for possible criminal activities, the direction, temperament and tempo of legal and spontaneous demonstrations and report information in real time to the JOC. This may also involve crowd infiltrators.

"Event Monitors" are required to provide real time intelligence of demonstrations or large gatherings of protesters where there is pre existing intelligence and/or evidence of violence. "Event Monitors" will be deployed in the areas where this is a concern to provide intelligence regarding the size, possible intentions of the gatherings, locations and directions of travel and identify subjects committing criminal offences. The "Event Monitors" are not part of any enforcement actions or Public Order Team actions unless an exigent circumstance exists (to prevent grievous bodily harm).

Primary Role:

The primary role of the "Event Monitors" will be to provide ongoing and real time intelligence by closely surveilling any large gatherings with pre existing potential for criminality. These officers will be dressed in plain clothes and will position themselves strategically in order to gather intelligence or evidence in a strictly "observations" or 'over hear' capacity. They will then transmit this information in various means available to their supervisors or directly to the JOC.

Officer Safety:

The officers will be working in teams of at least 4, dressed in plain clothes, with communications with their respective supervisors and the command centers. In the event the officers observe criminal activity they will only observe unless in exigent circumstances (grievous bodily harm). They will attempt to identify suspects and provide guidance and information to Public Order Teams assigned to conduct any follow up actions.

PIIT Surveillance Teams

These teams will be pre-staged outside of the Summit theater of operations for the purposes of conducting surveillance of various transportation expected to be used by demonstrators to travel to the theaters of operations. They will report on movements, positions and numbers of demonstrators heading into the Summit theater of operations. They will assist in conducting surveillance operations as directed by the Primary Investigator. The surveillance supervisors will report to the PIIT MOB OPP Assistant primary.

The PIIT investigators will be supervised by the PIIT Primary Investigator and the PIIT Deputy Commanders.

7.4 PRIMARY INTELLIGENCE INVESTIGATION TEAM (PIIT)

The mandate of the PIIT is to acquire intelligence related to the threats to the security of the 2010 G8-G20 Summits. Led by the Primary Investigator, the PIIT is divided into 13 investigative teams and an RCMP Covert Operations Team. PIIT will be headquartered in three locations: the Barrie Main Operating Base (MOB), the GTA Forward Operating Base (FOB) and the Huntsville FOB.

Investigators conduct intelligence investigations on possible threats and suspicious activity associated to the 2010 G8-G20 Summits guided by the principles outlined in the PIIT Baseline Document. The PIIT will use a variety of accepted law enforcement techniques including surveillance to collect information on these threats and suspicious activity. Credible threats and criminal offences will be reported to the appropriate authorities for further criminal investigation if necessary.

Any RCMP PIIT line of inquiry that develops into a substantial intelligence investigation or requires the approval of sensitive expenditures, will necessitate a completed and authorized Project Operational Plan on RCMP form 2350. These projects will be assigned a project name, an Internal Order number and a separate PROS file for scoring and tracking purposes.

7.4.1 Covert Operations Team (COT)

As part of the PIIT, the Covert Operations Team will conduct undercover operations to uncover criminality in relation to the 2010 G8-G20 Summits. Part of this unit will reside in a separate, covert facility. RCMP covert operations will report directly to the Primary Investigator. OPP and other municipal covert operations will report directly to their respective Team Leaders. These reporting lines for covert operations will ensure that the application of the undercover technique is followed as per agency's individual policies and approval procedures. The Primary Investigator will coordinate and have a clear understanding of all covert operations to avoid overlap and to ensure resources are maximized to their fullest.

7.4.2 National Security

O Division INSET will be notified immediately and will conduct the necessary national security criminal investigation should a threat be uncovered pursuant to the following:

- Sections 6(1) and 6(2) of the Security Offences Act;
- To the security of Canada as defined by Section 2 of the CSIS Act;
- To internationally protected persons within the meaning of Section 2 of the Criminal Code;
- To Canadian Executive and designated protected persons as defined in Section 18 of the RCMP Regulations; and

Subject: Friendly Reminder

Good Afternoon Gentlemen,

I had the opportunity to brief Chief BLAIR and the Steering Committee today regarding our current threat picture and many of our support components in the field.

Chief BLAIR ask that I convey his thanks and appreciation onto the entire JIG personnel for their endless hours of commitment and dedication in the pursuit of securing a safe and peaceful Summits for all.

The Chief was quite pleased to learn that the Event Monitoring Unit recently received excellent training from Calgary PD with respect to crowd monitoring and infiltration in preparation for the Summits.

That said, I don't get to see you guys very often and I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for pulling your teams together and for providing your leadership, guidance and expertise to your teams.
